Publicizing Our Activities

Our mission to encourage informed and active participation in government relies on our ability to effectively communicate with League members, our community and policy makers.

The communications team is a resource to help elevate the League's visibility. Our goals include promoting attendance at meetings and activities, encouraging community participation in our programs, enhancing the visibility of the organization, and broadly publicizing League positions.

We have several mechanisms available to help bring visibility to our activities and positions. These news outlets can be utilized singularly or together to target specific audiences and ensure an effective distribution of our messages. Below is a list of our news platforms and the individuals responsible for managing them. Please submit materials directly to the appropriate individual via email. For assistance with developing a communications strategy, please contact Jennifer Rubin, Communications Team Leader.
