

Join your League
Public Education Action Team and support public education in North Carolina

of Orange, Durham and Chatham Counties in North Carolina

The NC League Position:

- Supports public, pre-K education programs as essential to successful education outcomes and the long-term prosperity and quality of life of North Carolinians, and these programs should be fully funded.
- Supports highly qualified teachers as a necessary part of a quality education and supports training, teacher support, professional development and salaries competitive with the national average.
- Believes charter schools that receive public dollars must be held to the same educational, accountability and transparency standards as are traditional public schools.
- Opposes vouchers, tax credits and scholarships that shift public tax dollars to private entities.

Join the ODC League's Education Action Team to help educate and advocate on behalf of public education.

How does the LWV ODC Public Education Action Team work?

We bring together local public school advocates by:

- Holding monthly meetings to review, discuss and plan actions in support of public education.
- Using social media and connecting with partner organizations that share our mission.
- Connecting with other local LWV Public Education teams in North Carolina.

What do we do?

- Plan speakers and discussions to inform the public on issues and challenges in public education.
- Observe the North Carolina Legislature and advocate as appropriate.
- Inform and educate through traditional and social media and via our website.
- Partner with other organizations on specific outreach opportunities.
- Connect with others in our community who care about public education.
